

Eldris Burnt Orange

Eldris is the knife that fits in your pocket as well in your backpack, the blade is 2 mm thick and 59 mm long – or in this case short. The solid blade provides both strenght and safety in each cut.

Properties:

The blade is made of 12C27, a high quality Swedish stainless steel that is treated through our unique process in our factory in Mora. What's more, the handy size of the blade suits the varied situations you can encounter on your hike, camping trip or when hunting. The knife has a secure grip made out of two different polymers and a click lock, making the knife safe to handle. Perfect for both new and experienced adventures.
